

HERITAGE AND INFORMATION GOVERNANCE Records Retention Schedule for Corporate Services

Corporate service means a service provided primarily for the institution's staff but which may be provided (or available to) students, the public and external organisations. Corporate services may be provided directly by the institution, through partnership arrangements with other institutions or by external organisations under contract.

This retention schedule is based on the recommendations made by the Joint Information Systems Committee. The letter indicates the final disposition of each type of record, and applies to original records. Where copies of originals are kept locally, these can be destroyed when these are no longer required:

A = 1 copy to be transferred to the University Archive. See Retention Schedule Guidelines for further details.

D = Destroyed.

The number following the letter code indicates the period (in years) after which records may be destroyed, and is the minimum retention period required by best practice or legislation. It assumes a new file is opened at the start of each academic, calendar or financial year, and is always calculated from the date of the last record in the file.

CORPORATESERVICES/OPERATIONS Some activities are common to many types of corporate services (e.g. handling enquiries; scheduling work). Other activities are specific to particular types of services. The institution should identify and define the activities associated with each service that it provides. This single activity of 'Operations Management' may be replaced by a number of specific activities, depending on the complexity of the service being provided. Note 1

This is a generic business classification scheme for the function of providing a corporate service. It is a framework which can be customised to produce a specific business classification scheme for any type of corporate service which the institution provides.

DE: RM: DraftsforPublication: Tuition Fees Author: Brian D.A. Kelvin, Records Manager Date cretaed: 28 October 2010

Corporate services provided by HEIs include: archives services; catering services; computing services; graphic design services; library and information services; mail services; museum services; photographic services; reception services; records management services; reprographic services; security services; telephone services.

Identifying and defining all the activities involved in delivering all the possible services that an institution could provide is outside the scope of this Business Classification Scheme.

Note 2

This function is intended to cover only the substantive (i.e. 'core business') aspects of providing a corporate service. A business unit which provides a corporate service will also undertake functions which appear elsewhere in this business classification scheme (e.g. Finance Management).
